

“When power purchase deal isn’t a done deal” article prepared by Dentons HPRP lawyers published by The Jakarta Post

January 31, 2018

An article on Power Purchase Agreements (“PPA”) for private sector power plants in Indonesia prepared by Dentons HPRP partner Hendra Ong and associate lawyer Joshua Satyagraha was published by one of Indonesia’s leading national publications, The Jakarta Post.

The article discusses a letter to the President Director of PT Perusahaan Listrik Negara (“PLN”) recently issued by the Directorate General of Electricity of the Ministry of Energy, Resources, and Minerals concerning the Review of PPA for private sector power plants (“IPP”). As the letter has met with controversy amongst many relevant parties, Hendra and Joshua, both of whom have extensive experience in providing legal advice and assistance in HPRP’s energy practice, presented a write up which explains what the impact will be when PLN carries out the plan to renegotiate the PPA as requested.
