

What is happening in SOE Restructuring and what are the implications for third parties?

October 9, 2020

Dentons HPRP recently arranged a webinar about restructuring in state-owned enterprises (SOEs) in Indonesia (8/10). Michael A. Kaihatu (Partner) and Abraham Sylvester Harryandi (Senior Associate), both of whom have extensive expertise in corporate practice, particularly handling corporate actions in SOEs, shared the latest updates of the restructuring plans in SOEs and how it impacts related parties. Dentons HPRP Managing Partner, Constant M. Ponggawa, delivered the keynote speech in the event.

With the title “Apa Kabar dengan Restrukturisasi BUMN dan Bagaimana Implikasinya bagi Pihak Ketiga” (What Is Happening in SOE Restructuring and What Are the Implications for Third Parties), the webinar discussed the goals of restructuring in SOEs, what aspects need to be considered, including the legal basis and considerations for decision making, what efforts have been made by the Government, and what are the implications for third parties?

Attended by business people from various industry sectors, the discussion aimed at understanding the current condition of the government’s plans for restructuring SOEs. With a huge number of companies and assets, the role of SOEs is relevant to improving the economy and overcoming the crisis in Indonesia.
