

Natural gas business: One price for all of Indonesia?

March 26, 2018

Indonesia is a natural gas producer with reserves and markets spread all over Indonesia and Asia. Apart from the domestic supply demand, gas is also used as an export commodity in the form of Liquid Petroleum Gas (LPG) and piped gas. However, it is going to be our loss if we cannot maximize our potential in handling the downstream natural gas business.

What are the challenges faced by the industry? Have the regulations become solutions or problems?

To comprehend the situation, Dentons HPRP lawyers, Andre Rahadian (partner), Winda Tania (senior associate) and Monica Elizabeth Dina (associate), have prepared an article on the new Minister of Energy and Mineral Resources Regulation No. 4 of 2018 concerning Exploitation of Natural Gas in Downstream Oil and Gas Business Activities. Please check the article here.

With its extensive experience in energy and mineral resources, Dentons HPRP has been assisting corporations in the industry. Please contact partner listed under key contact for further details.

Your Key Contacts

Andre Rahadian

Partner, Jakarta

D +62 21 5701837

M +62 816 898654

andre.rahadian@dentons.com